AN IMPORTANT DECISION .- The tollowing opinion, rendered by Chief Justice Pearson, will be found of inerest to the general public:

Wilsonvs. Jenkins and Rielly.—Our abor in deciding this case is much lightened by the discussion of Shaf-fer vs Jenkins, and the opinion delivered in that case at this term. The General Assembly has abs ute control over the finances of the State. The Public Treasurer and Auditor are mere ministerial officers, bound to obey the orders of the General Assembly.

It follows that the courts have no power to compel, by mandamus, the Public Treasurer to pay a debt, which the General Assembly has directed him not to pay, or the Auditor to give a warrant upon the Treasurer which the General Assembly has directed him not to give, unless the act of the General Assembly be void, as violating the constitution of the United States or of the State. Our case presents these facts, briefly set out. The constitution of 1868 orders the General Assembly to proorders the General Assembly to provide for the prompt payment of the interest on the public debt. Carrying out this order, the General Assembly in 1868 directed the Public Treasurer to pay the interest on the lawful debt of the State out of any payments, not otherwise appropriate. money not otherwise appropriated. The amendment to the constitution in 1874 repeals the act of 1868, and enacts that the Public Treasurer shall not pay the interest of the bonded debt of the State except as may be hereafter provided for, and that the Auditor shall not audit or recognize any claim for interest on the debt of the State. Thus following the notions of the people in accepting the constitution of 1868 and the amendment in 1874. In March, 1874, the plaintiff held a large amount of the coupons on bonds of the State, and demanded payment of the Public Treasurer, who refused to pay, on the ground that he had no funds not otherwise appropriated; on the further ground that should such funds be in hand he would not be at liberty to pay all of the fund to the plaintiff and leave the other creditors wholly unpaid, but would divide the fund pro rata, and on the further ground hat the claims of the plaintiff had not been passed on by the Auditor. The plaintiff then demanded of the Auditor that he should pass upon his debts and give a warrant upon the Public Treasurer. To this demand the Auditor replied he had no right to interfere, whereupon the plaintiff again demanded payment of the Public Treasurer, stating that he was advised that as his debt was liquida-ted and was evidenced by a plain obligation to pay a specific sum, there was no occasion for a warrant of the Auditor. The Public Treasurer again failed to pay, and this action was commenced. To avoid confusion, we will for the present, put the fact that the plaintiffs action was pending at the date of the passage of the act, November, 1874, aside, and consider the legal effect of the act of 1868, the interest and the act of 1874 direct ting the Public Treasurer not to pay such interest, and the Auditor not to give his warrant for the payment of the same.

It was said on the argument, the act of 1874 impairs the obligation of the contract. What contract? The original contract, induced by the State bonds and coupons, remains in tact and is not at all impaired; the terms are not changed and the remedy ex isting at the execution of the bonds and coupons are now plainly the same. The act of 1868, directing the Treasurer to apply any monies re-maining in hand, not otherwise appropriated, to discharge interest upon the lawful debt of the State, makes no new contract, nor does it add to the original contract—it is in no sense of the word a contract; it is a separate action of the General Assembly, for which the public creditors paid consideration and in which they took no part. It is simply an order of the General Assembly, given to its ministerial officer, which it had a right to countermand at any time be-Pace 63, N. C., 603, is in point. One Evans owed Dixon $250. Evans sent to Pace, his agent, $250, with directions to pay t to Dixon. Pace saw proper to ap ply it to other debts, and his action was ratified by Evans. It is held that Evans had a right to countermand his order at any time before Pace had paid it over to Dixon-for Dixon had done nothing to vest in him a right of action for the money against Pace and his condition was not changed, he had paid no consideration, and much depended on the contract with Evans. In Charles River Bridge Co. vs. Warren Bridge, 11 Peters, 581, Justice McLean says: "After a careful ex-amination of the question adjudged by this Court, they seem not to have decided in any case that the contract is impaired, within the meaning of the Constitution, when the action of the State has not been on the contract. Here the action was not on the contract, but was collateral, and was merely the expression of the volition of the General Assembly in respect thereto, which, as we have seen, could be changed to conform to the varying will of the people as ex-pressed by the amendment to the Constitution at any time before such volition had been carried in effect Had the plaintiff received the money, he would have acquired a vested right beyond the reach of any amendment to the Constitution and of the act 1874, for if the General Assembly had afterwards passed an act requiring him to pay back the money and making his failure to do so a misdemeanor, the statute would have been void as expos tfacto. It is said the plaintiff would have got the money but for the wrongful refusal of the executive officer to obey the act of 1868. That may be so, but still he did not get the money, and a "miss is as good as a mile." We come now to consider how far the fact that he had made a demand upon the Treasurer and Auditor and had commenced an action, which was pending and actually being tried at the time the act of November, 1874, was passed can affect the question. We are not able to see any principle upon which that circumstance can make a difference his condition as a creditor of the State or surrendered any right, and still has his contract with the State and his remedy unimpaired just as it was when the contract was entered into.

All that he can complain of is that the people have seen proper to amend the Constitution, and in accordance thereto the General Assembly has repealed the act of 1868, under which he had hoped to have his coupons satisfied.

Mr. Graham also took the position that assuming the act of 1874 not to be unconstitutional, and that it repealed the act of 1868, under which this action was brought, the repeal did not affect his case by reason of the provision in chapter 108, section 1, Battle's Revisal, "the repeal of a statute shall not affect any suit brought before the repeal for any forfeiture incurred or for the recovery of any rights accruing under such of any rights accruing under such statute." That right accrued to the plaintiff under the act of 1868? None pased on contract as we have seen at most a mere expectation that Lee's money would be paid under an act which the General Assembly had passed in obedience to the Constitu-tion and as an act of justice; but the people had power to amend the Con-stitution, and the General Assembly had power to repeal the act in accordance with the amendments; so the plaintiff had acquired no legal right under the act of 1868, within the meaning of the statute referred to. If he had, the repealing act of 1874, being directly called for by the amendment of the Constitution, would over-ride a general provision of the kind. A complete answer to the position, however, is that the act of 1874 not only repeals the act of of 1874 not only repeals the act of 1868, but in section 2 and 3, in so many words, forbids the Treasurer from paying, and the Auditor from recognizing, any claim for principal or interest of the bonded bebt of the State except as may be hereafter provided for by law. There is no error, Affirmed. PEARSON, C. J.

By SETTLE, J. State of North Carolina vs Richmond and Danville Railroad Company, (two cases) from Wake; errorinjunction dissolved. the North Carolina Railroad to the Richmond and Danville Railroad Company, is declared valid, with power to the lessee to change the guage between Greensboro and Charlotte, or through the entire length of the road if desired.)

About three years ago the N. C. R. R. Co. leased its entire road from Goldsboro to Charlotte to the Richmond and Danville R. R. Co., who and Danville R. R. In the lease is a provision authorizing the lessee change the guage of the N. C. R. R. either between Greensboro and Charlotte, or throughout the entire length of the road. The R. & D. R. R. Co. propos about two years since to change the guage of that part of the road beween Greensboro and Charlotte to make it the same guage with the roads running north from Greensboro and south from Charlotte. Their object is said to be to prevent the necessity of making the through travel change cars at these points. When the R. & D. R. R. Co. threatened to make this alteration, the Attorney General on behalf of the State interfered, and brought suit to Judge Albertson heard the case and granted an injunction forbidding the change of guage. The R. & D. R. R. Co. appealed and the case has now been pending in the Supreme Cour, for nearly two years. day the decision was rendered : Judge Settle delivering the opinion.

The Supreme Court held: 1st. That the lease is good and binding.
2nd. That the R. & D. R. R. Co. has a right to alter the guage be-tween Greensboro and Charlotte, or broughout the entire length of the N. C. R. R., as they may deem proper.

THE NATIONAL BANKS OF RAL-FIGH.—We published a few days since the quarterly statements of the Citizens', Raleigh and State National Banks of this city, and were pleased to note the excellent condition of these institutions, denoting a posi tive healthy financial condition of our city at present. At the State National Bank the individual deposits at the close of the quarter were $337,000, while the gen-eral profit and loss account footed $80,000; at the Raleigh National th individual deposits were $290,755.51. We have not at hand the exact figures as to the deposits at the Citizens' Bank, but know they are fully up to those of its sister banks.

CPINION OF THE SUPREME COURT. Rascoe vs. Hyman et al., from Halifax. Judgment quando against surviving administrator does not bar recovery against personal representative of co-administrator or the sureties on the administration bond. SETTLE, J.

Admitting that the defendant, S. B. Hyman, can not be held responsi-ble in his character as surviving administrator of A. M. Riddick for the reason that no assets of the intestate came to his hands; and further, that he can not be held responsible in his character of executor of his co-administrator, Jno. H. Hyman, for the reason that no assets of the intestate were in the hands of J. H. Hyman were in the hands of J. H. Hyman at the time of his death, he having wasted the same, yet there is no reason why he should not be held responsible as an obligor on the administration bond for the devastavit committed by J.H.Hyman just as any other obligor on that bond would be responsible. The breach of the bond complained of in this action is the devastavit committed by J. H. Hyman vastavit committed by J. H. Hyman. Why a not all the obligors on the bond responsible for the breach? The plaintiff is not precluded from suing B. Hyman on the bond by the fact that in a former suit against Hyman as surviving administrator of Riddick, he had taken a judgment quan-do. This judgment admits that no assets of Riddick had come to the hands of S. B. Hyman at that time, but it does not admit that none had come to the hands of John H. Hy-man and therefore in the first action a judgment quando was the only one that could have been properly rendered. The demurrer should have been overruled.

Per curiam. Judgment reversed and case remanded to be proceeded in according to law.

A "CIVIL RIGHTER" DIDN'T GET HIS SHAVE .- Yesterday morning a sable six-footer, with the most of his person covered with a blue overcoat, (whether furnished by the Govern-ment or not we don't know,) and claiming to hail from the neighborhood of Franklinton, put in an ap-pearance at the barber-shop of Scott Brown, one of the principle shops in this city, and demanded a shave at the hands of Scott, exhibiting at the same time the money to pay for the service to be rendered. Scott not being willing to shave the "civil righter," his shop being patronized exclusively by whites, he politely in-formed the Franklinite of this fact. Remonstrance did not prevail, although the shave was demanded, and the African was compelled to leave the shop as he came into it, and we hear of no prosecution against Scott. We would inform the blacks that the civil rights has no bearing upon either barber-shop or bar-room, and any efforts in this direction will only crove both the ignorance and maicious purposes of the parties seeking to make trouble by making demands in either.

JUDGE MERRIMON has come out in the new Senate as one of the most inveterate and powerful opponents of the inevitable Pinchback. It is to be hoped that the effort to keep that reproach to the very principles of representation out of the once august body of the Senate will suc-

Save enthusiastic Southern Democrats have thought something due to the Senate in the choice of the Speaker of the next Congress. It ought never to have been thought of for a moment. The South must be content with a back seat for years to come, and must unite in bestowing the honors among those who have proved the strongest friends of justice and harmony. There are numbers of such to select from, and at present to our minds the claims may be equally divided between Randall and Cox, or Wood and Kerr, all National men, with big National hearts.

Is the House of Representatives ashamed of what it has done that it permits Thorne, the expelled member, to retain his seat in the House with apparently the same rights as when he was a member? There is a consistency in things, and if he was declared unworthy of his seat, it seems proper that the expulsion from the House should be real, and not technical, something more than striking his name from the roll and the deprivation of pay. More than this, he has used his desk as the point from which he has fulminated his thunders against the Legislature, and uses the very Hall from which he was expelled (?) to peddle his pamphlets. Is this consistent?

THE Legislature of Virginia has tion. We believe there is a bill of the same nature in the Senate of North Carolina. We fear our means are too limited to appropriate a sum large enough to do any real good, For we cannot think anything can be accomplished without a wise liberality. Yet we believe it would be the wisest investment the State could make, which would draw population into our midst, and fill up the large areas of vacant land everywhere to be found. The increase in taxation from these new sources would soon repay the original outlay, and be the foundation of a constantly increasing source of

THE CONVENTION RILL. Introduced into the Senate on Wednesday is the one which with slight amendments will probably be the one adopted. It is one certainly adapted to silence all the scruples of the opponents of the proposition, even if it does not fill the measure of its friends. There is enough concession in it to satisfy the most exacting, enough of caution to reassure the most timid, and enough of deference to the changes of the times to obtain the support of the most intensely loyal. If the restrictions provided for in the bill are scrutinized, it will be observed that the Convention will be powerless for harm to interests that were thought to be imperilled, if indeed the restrictions do not go so far as to weaken it for effective good.

The bill has been introduced as of concession, and we now expect an undivided support from the Democratic party. It has become a measure of the party, but which we believe will commend itself to some Republicans in both House, as it does to large numbers of Republicans throughout the State. As a party measure, it should now commend the undivided support of every Democratic vote in the General Assembly. Individuals cannot thwart with impunity the mant questions-in none with more purposes of a large majority, they cannot imperil the vital principles of party organization, without imperiling their own safety by the injury to the common cause. The consequences of independent action are not problematical. They are seen everywhere.

NEW HAMPSHIRE is another illustration of the danger, or rather of unreliable character of isolated elections. Standing alone, such States invite the whole force of every governmental influence that can be brought into action. There can be little doubt, that freed from outside pressure, New Hampshire would have gone decidedly Democratic, as it is they made a good fight, and almost a successful one. It was of vast importance to the Administration that this State should lead off (or be led off) in the direction of Republicanism to restore the prestige of the party. Enough has been gained under most unpropitious influences to cheer the Democrats, and to convince them that what they have gained in the last few months is substantial and en-

IN THE discussion of the Convention bill, we wish to make a suggestion in connection with restrictions. One of the causes of complaint against the present Constitution is the want of a power, often asked, to exempt manufacturing enterprises for a period of years from taxation, by which capital would be drawn into the State to occupy some of the numberless fine localities. Georgia has derived great advantage from her freedom on this point, and Tennessee has also put it into practice, and it is believed that the prosperity of this State would receive a new and immediate impulse if capital could be made free in its investments, at least until returns become profitable. We hope the door will not again be closed against this liberty of action by such permanent restrictions as can never again be un-during.

THE STATE DEBT BILL. However meagre the provision made in the bill providing for the settlement and commutation of the State debt may appear in the eyes of the creditors, we, as North Carolinians, may feel just pride and satisfaction in the bill which passed the House of Representatives on Wednesday night, and which, with trifling amendment, is in the same form in which it came from the Senate. With the adoption of these amendments by the Senate, a thing of certainty, the bill may be considered a finality so far as depends upon the action of the Legislature. And no future legislature will go a step further forward.

The Committee on the State Debt had a difficult duty to fulfill, and a laborious work to perform. They had to preserve the honor of the passed a bill appropriating $10,000 | State by recognizing and providing for the encouragement of immigra- for all just claims against it, and they had to protect the people of the State by making the burden as light as could be borne. When it is remembered that the assessed value of the property of the State is now one hundred and forty millions as against upwards of four hundred millions before the war, and when it is remembered also that in connection with this vast contraction or destruction of values, there is added a heavy taxation on industries for national purposes, together with already heavy domestic taxes, it will be seen that the recognition of old obligations upon the basis fixed in the bill, is in fair proportion to the present ability of the State to meet.

But having reached the point to which the committee had arrived, there was a firm purpose on the part of the majority to sustain its conclusions. The offensive suggestion had but one consistent advocate. Other gentlemen, in their opposition to the bill, did say they favored repudiation. But we will do Messrs. Gudger and Boyd the justice to state, that while advocating their own peculiar views they were extreme in their expressions, yet upon the final vote they ranged themselves on the side of State honor and voted with the majority. Mr. Norment alone openly advocated repudiation and stuck to his colors by voting against the bill. Of the others who voted against the bill, but who took no part in the debate, we will not undertake to say that they would favor repudiation, but they find themselves in exceedingly bad company.

Much is due to the instrumental. ity of the representative from Burke in the perfection of the bill which passed, and to his earnest efforts and clear statements, much of its success in the House was due. Mr. Tate has devoted a mind singularly bright in financial matters to the service of the State in other imporsignal service and ability than in this public debt question.

Nearly all of the talent of the House was arrayed on one side, and the bill found most earnest advocacy in Messrs. McRae, Moring, Mendenhall, Mebane, Patton, Candler and others, and was opposed by Messrs. Gudger, Boyd and Norment, though the two former of TMPORTANT NOTICE. these gentlemen voted for it.

The bill passed by a vote of 83 to 25, a most decided voice against the doctrine of repudiation. A majority embracing Republicans as well as Democrats may be taken as a fair index of the sentiment of their constituents, and North Carclina has given another signal evidence of that honesty which has been her great characteristic. She has given out of her poverty all that she could spare, and if she has fallen short of the expectations of her creditors, she has at least the satisfaction of knowing that she did all her condition permitted her to do. She can bear the complaints of the dissatisfied with great philoso-

Why will our Merchants and others buy their Cigars from the North instead of patronizing their own Factories at home. Why will they be imposed upon by those Nomads of Northern ifms, the Drummers, Whose expenses and extravagances they (our Merchants) have to pay out of the cabage leaves, plugs, soaks, spurious mixed Havanas, and infected rubbish, that they buy from them.

By purchasing their Cigars from the North, our Merchants enrich a class, that neither care for our community, and leave none of the money spent with them here, whilst the Cigar Manufacturers of Raiely languish for reason of patronage from the very one's that ought to take a pride in building up home Manufacturers in their midst. There's no kind or style of Cigar that the Northern Factories make, that our Cigar Manufactorers cannot make also, and as for prices, we can give better satisfaction both in quality and cheapness, than the whole army of Commercial Agents that infest Haleigh in the interests of Northern Houses.

By encouraging Home Manufactures, of Northern Houses.

By 'encouraging Home Manufactures, our Merchants will see our Cigar Fuctories (instead of being mere burlesques of Factories of modest appearance) large in size, flourishing in plenty of work, with twenty or thirty Cigar makers constantly making up stock for home consusption. Those men that our Manufacturers would employ would spend from three to four hundred dollars weekly, thereby benefitting the community at large and keeping the money where it ought to be at home. The Merchants of Charlotte buy exclusively from their two Cigar Manufacturers, and shill Raleigh be antagonistic to Charlotte. Time will decide.

The Cotton Plow saving Jully ½ of the labor, doing the work better, leaving the land in better condition and being much easier to laborer and horse. The castings are made only from the best, new pig iron and last much longer than any other, in many cases two points only being required to make a full crop of cotton and corn. We give below a few of the many certificates from the best farmers of our country, who have fully tested them.

J. P. Edmonson, Johnston County, says:

The "Universa!" as a turn plow is in every way equal to the "Wait," and will not choke in any of our lands, and is lighter, thereby saving fee I and stock.

Daniel Stewart, Harnett County, "I want no better plow, have used them for years and know them to be all you claim for them, every farmer ought to have them. I cannot farm without them.

Dr. Wilder, Wake County, says: "Your "Cetton Plow" is the best I ever used, and the "Turn" Plow can't be ex-celled, I must have more of them."

Analysis made by order of Prof. W. C. KERR, State Geologist of North Carolina, by Dr. F. A. GENTH, University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia. Chemical Laboratory of the University of Pennsylvania. WEST PHILADELPHIA annuary 4th, 1875.

I have analyzed as follows:—"I Sample of "Soluble Ammoniated South Sea Guano prepared for Cotton by R. M. RHODES & CO., 82 South Street, Baltimore, 182 lbs.," which I found to contain—

MOISTURE, - 15 53 percent.

SOLUBLE PHOSPHORIC ACID, 4.32 " equivalent to 9.43 pr. ct. of Bone Phosphate of Lime Precipitated, " 7.16 " 15.63 " "

TS. - 4.58 Both samples were certified to having been taken, sealed and sent by Thos. HARRI Hodges, Notary Public, and were in perfect condition. F. A. GENTH. Professors TONRY, LIEBIG and MALLET say of the Orchilla Guano

The Orchilla, which seems to be an organic deposit, can be recommended to the farmer for use in its crude state, and after a careful and complete analysis, as well as a thorough examination of the mechanical condition, as well as from the testimony of several who have used it in its crude state, and have expressed to me their entire satisfaction. I feel perfectly justified in recommending the Orchilla.

W. P. TONRY,

Prof. Anal. and App'ld Chemistry, Maryland Institute. The Orchilla Guano, which is truly an organic deposit, deserves well the attention of the farmer, not only on account of the high grade of its Phosphates of Lime and Alkaline Sait., but more particularly for the physical condition and texture in which this Guand is presented.

G. A. LIEBIG, Ph. D.

This material decidedly recommends itself to the attention of farmers by its large propertion of Phosphoric Acid, being in a form to be much more easily taken up by growing plants than that of the harder and more compact Mineral Phosphates. Farmers can themselves very easily add Peravian Guano, Co ten Seed, Mill Refuse or other material affording Nitregen when it is desired to combine the effort of Ammoniacal with that of thosphatic Manure, near by her, "What is the matter? What are they looking for?" The answer was, "They are looking for a vellow woman in the dress-circle." Immediately the woman put the cap upon her little boy's head and said to him "let's go." And they went. As they arose the crowd yelled, "That's her!" "That's her!" About a hundred furious men dashed after her.

They blocked up the aisles and might have caused a panic and fearful loss of life had it not been for the prompt action of Major Poe and the police, who refused to allow them to pass close towards the woman, and kept them pent up in the vestibule until she had gotten down the steps

This incident renewed the excitement that had somewhat subsided, many of the ladies present, aggrava-manager. When the intermission came after this, as usual a considerable number of men rushed across the street to Euker's saloon. The woman's presence in the dress-circle was the subject of fiery discussion. The man

Social Fquality Rejected by the White reople of Richmond. TWO NEGROES VOLUNTARILY LEAVE

PARQUET.

Exciting Scenes and Incidents. from the Richmond Dispatch of Tuesday. The Theatre was filled with a large and fashionable audience last night thwithstanding the anticipation of rouble on the part of badly-intenoned negroes. The play, "Davy rocket," is perhaps not a perfect dramatic composition, but it is infinitely superior to such "society" laysas"Article 47." "Geneva Cross." and others that have gained celebrity and popularity in some parts of the country. There are fine scenes and numorous passages in it that would have been heartily appreciated last night had the audience not been in a state of feverish excitement from the time the curtain rose until it fell.

During the second overture, and a little while after 8 o'clock, a young mulatto, quite bright, but still dark enough to be immediately recognized as not of the Caucasian race, accompanied by a mulatto boy much whiter than himself, presented tickets at the door and was passed into the parquet.

The man went down the middle sle and took a seat in one of the hairs very near to the orchestra and stage. The boy, more timid, took a seat near the door. It was not long efore the color of the man was observed, and immediately a fierce ex-citement took possession of the crowd. Some mounted chairs and cried "Put him out!" "Put him at!" Others advanced towards him with menacing gestures. In a little time he was encircled by a throng of angry men and told to "clear out," and his life seemed in imminent peril. However, no one struck him or took hold of him. Manager Powell made his way to the man and had a whispered conversation with him. He told him that he could easily see that he was not wanted down there, and he (Powell) would return him his money if he would go up in the colored gallery. The fel-low consented, but said as he went "You needn't make so much fuss about it-you'll have to come to

The boy fled at the first sign of danger, though his color never would have betrayed the negro blood in his veins, he was apprehensive of harm, and having a convenient station slipped out of the door at the first opportunity, and was seen and heard of

The man went up to the colored gallery. As he passed out of the parquet he was recognized as James Ellis, a waiter in some hotel, and on of Cæsar Ellis, who has been for thirty or thirty-five years a trusted servant of the Whig, and greatly respected in this community. Oner near the seat young Ellis had occuied was found a book entitled "Rebel Barbarities." It was filled with picures of white men lashing negroes and such like stuff. Two other colored men tried to get into the parquet. They were both drinky; indeed, one was quite drunk. They had no tickets, though they pulled out money, and were, as matter of course, turned back by the doorkeeper. Policeman Angle, who was present, seeing their tipsy condition, threatened to take them into custody, but the soberer one of the two begged himself and companion off, and finally, upon promises of good behavior, they were allowed to go into the colored gallery.

After Ellis had left the parquet the GUANOS. greater part of the audience settled down, and order again reigned. But OFFICE OF THOS. BRANCH & CO., many men gathered in the lobbies and in front of the Theatre and discussed the occurrence. Everything

The Guanahani Guano' is of an inferior quality to their importations, and had been rejected by them. From the reputation of the signers of that card, we presume they did not know that this statement was false. We propose to prove to the satisfaction of that Company and of the public the following facts, viz:

1st. That their agent at the Islands attempted (AND FAILED) to get control of deposits of Guano that were secured by a member of our firm who is now at the Islands.

24. That our Cat Island Guano, according to the analysis of Professor White, of the University of Georgia, (who analyzed for the Guanahani Company, is at least the equal of the Guano imported and sold by the Guanahani Company last spring in the cotton sections of Virginia and North Carolina.

Our Guano shall stand or fall by the crucial test of the analystical chemist, and not by cards put out on the eve of the planting season. We will have each cargo analyzed before its receives our brand, or is offered the public, and we will publish the report of the chemist. We invite the Guanahani Company to publish the analyses of each of the various lots offered or sold by them last spring, that the public may decide.

We have been enabled to avoid the mistakes that the inexperience of the Guanahani Company betrayed them into last year. We are not taxed with the enormous expenses for salaries, &c., paid by them, and with one of our firm on the Island, and one of the most experience-d Guano men in the country as our General Agent, we are satisfied we can beat them in quality and price. We challenge them to meet us in the laboratory or on the prantation; and until they can compete with us successfully in these tests, their paper attacks will not hurt the best natural Guano (except Peruvian) yet offered to the public.

They write about "their standard!" Will they publish it? Why did they publish a standard last year, and will-draw it? We have taken proper steps in the courts to protect ourselves from any injury arising she was represented to be-viz.: Ellen White, an inmate of the establishment of Sue Hill's. But he frightened her. Dear Sir:—In reply to yours, I must say that I am undoubtedly of the option that in most Natural Guanos the forms of combination of the valuable elements as sent are superior to those which are Artificially produced in manipulated fertilizers, and although this cannot enter as a factor in determining Commercial values, it increases the relative Agricultural value of Natural Guanos to a considerable extent.

is no new or untried manure. It has been before the public for upwards of ten years, during which time it has been steadily growing in reputation, until it is now universally recognized as one of the most uniformly reliable concentrated fertilizers in the market. It is manufactured from the best and purest raw materials, every one of which is subjected to chemical analysis before being used. The purity of the fertilizer is thus assured. In addition to this, every step of its manufacture is conducted under the strictest chemical supervision, so that farmers are thus guarded at every point from any danger of using an inferior article. Messrs. Williamson, Upchurch & Thomas:
Gentlemen:—The ton of Whann's Raw Bone Super-Phosphate purchased of you last Spring made the best crop of cotton I ever made, and I consider it decidedly the best fertilizer I ever used, I want it again next season.

Yours truly,

Messrs. King, White & Shaw:

Gentlemen:—In reply to your inquiry as to my opinion of Whann's Raw Bone SuperPhosphate, I unbestatingly say that by comparison with other fertilizers during the last three years, I am satisfies that Whann's has turned out better crops for me than any other, and I expect to continue to use it.

Yours truly,
JUHN E. THOMAS. Yours truly, JOHN E. THOMAS.

Mesers. Williamson, Upchurch & Thomas, Raieigh, N. C.:

Dear Sirs:—At the Orphan Asylum in Oxford, a very decided success has attended every application of Whann's Raw Bone Super-Phosphate. The land was poor, and the season dry, but the crops surpassed our extectations. Such a fertilizer will work its own way, because those who have used it once will want it again.

J. H. MILLS, Supt.

Louisburg, N. C., November 7, 1874, Messrs. King, White & Shaw:
I have used Whaun's Raw Bone Super Phosphate for the past four years, and am so well pleased with its result on my cotton crop that I have no wish to buy any other Fertilizer.

Both Liquid and Substantial I Sole agent for the celebrated Frederick Lauer Ale and the St. Louis Lager Beer. Also the genuine imported BERLIN TIVOLY BEER, and the only place in the city where the pure Bourber County Whiskey and the genuine Bungardner Ryo is to be had, Only give me a trial and I will ove what I say, but before closing me to sing my triends a little song;

As I took a stroll through Raieigh
One sultry afternoon
I called to get a glass of Ale
At Joseph's Central Saloon;
Oh, Joe, sa. d. I, I'm very dry,
Have you Ale that isn't sour?
Said he, my Ale is never stale,
I buy from Frederick Lauer.

Chorus—Then tap your Ale, the Reading Ale,
The Ale that don't sonr—
It keeps so long because its strong,
And brewed by Frederick Lauer.

I heard a song that McEven's Ale
Was high in public favor!
It can't compare with Reading Ale
In richness or in flavor,
For Later has the best of Malt,
Good brewers and good Barley;
His Ale is fine as the "Champagne Wine" That's drank by Champagne Charley.

Chorus-Then tap your Ale, the Reading Ale,
The Ale that don't get sour—
It keeps so long because its strong,
And brewed by Frederick Lauer.

Now, if ever you pass through Raieigh,
Just stop one afternoon
And take a glass or two of Ale
At Joseph's Central Salcon,
And if you chance to stay over,
You'll find out very soon
That the acknowledged headquarters of the city the city
Is Joseph's Central Saloon. Chorus-For Joe will keep the wholesome

Ale,
The Ale that don't get sour;

Foreign News.

PARIS, March 11.—The Courier de France reports that M. Du Favre has drawn up a programme of the policy for the new Ministry. The leading features of which are as follows: The Assembly on meeting after the Easter holidays are to vote for the budget. The Senatorial elections to be held next September. The dis-solution of the Assembly to follow in October. The government to de-mand the maintenance of the present electoral syetem and to raise the state of siege in all the depots except the Rhone and the the Seine, Bouches du Rhone.

LONDON, March 11 .- A Berlin correspondent telegraphs that Germany has asked Italy whethershe will continue to exempt the Pope from the tions of the law, and complains that he is now abusing the liberty given him for the purpose of fomenting rebellion in Germany.

VIENNA, March 11.-Francis Jo seph has received and accepted the resignation of Baron Schworz Senborn Austro, Hungarian Minister to Washington.

BERLIN, March 11 .- There is no foundation for the report in the Tagsblatt that France intended to concentrate her troops in the eastern Departments experimentally, and Germany threatened to mobilize two army corps on the Rhine if she per-

London, March 11 .- The Times' Paris special correspondent says that Mac Mahon, by yielding to the intrigues of the Bonapartists and re-fusing to make Duke d Audiffsett Pasquier Minister of Interior, has dealt a deadly blow at the reserved respect which all parties previously entertained for the head of State. Mac Mahon yesterday wrote a letter insisting that Buffit Duke d Audiffsett Pasquier will probably be elected President of the Assembly.

The Election of Governor Goes to the Legislature—The Latter Claimed to be Republican—A Close Race,

CONCORD, N. H., March 11.-Returns from all but eight towns of the State have been received at the Asociated Press office here. The footings of these towns are as follows: 259 towns and wards give Cheney, Republican, 38,771; Roberts, Demo-crat, 38,688; White, temperance, and scattering, 678. The same towns last year gave McCutchins, Republican, 33,860; Weston, Democrat, 35,205; Blackmar, temperance and scattering, 2,077; Republican net gain 2,827; Cheney's minority 595. The towns yet to be heard from gave last year, McCutchins, Republican, 281; Weston, Democrat, 313; scattering, adding last year's vote in these towns makes the Republican net gain 2,788 and Cheney's minority 634. The om the First Cong District elect Jones, Dem., by 472 plurality; Bell, Dem., in the Second District, by 154 plurality, and Blair. Rep., in the Third District, by 73 plurality, estimating four towns in Coos county not returned to give the same vote as last year. The Republicans have a majority in the House, but the exact figures cannot be given, they claim a majority of from six to twelve. The footings of the several Senatorial Districts indicate that they stand five Republicans, five Democrats and two Districts having no choice. There is no election of Governor by the people, and the duty of selection will devolve upon the Legislature, which will doubtless elect Cheney, the Republican candidate. The Democrats claim a majority in the Council, though the Districts have not been figured sufficiently to determine finally. The vote in the State yesterday is said to have been the largest ever polled.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, March 11.-There appears to be quite a contest going on over the Postmastership at Macon, Ga. It appears that some time ago, Mr. Belcher was sent from Augusta, Ga., to be Postmaster at Macon as a representative of a colored man. In the opinion of the Department and many of the patrons of the Macon office, he was not a good Postmaster, and the Postmaster General removed him and appointed Mr. Henry S. Glover, who it appears does not live at Macon, but 20 or 30 miles away. Parties are now trying to induce the Senate not to confirm Glover because he does not live within the delivery, and for other reasons. One of the reasons given for the retention of Belcher is, that he is a colored man. There is no prospect of his retention, but it may be that unless the Republicans of Macon rally to the support of Mr. Glover, the President may be compelled to withdraw his name and substitute therefor some of the other candidates, among whom are Mc-Burney and Bond, the latter of whom was turned out without cause, to give Belcher the place on account of his being a colored man. The same questions are likely to come up with regard to other offices in the South. There appears to be two parties in this fight, and the Postmaster General desires to get the best officers and is opposed in some places by parties in interest claiming to be Republicans, because individuals whom he thinks would make the best officers they claim not always the best Republicans, as there has been a great deal of cutting of tickets down there. These gentlemen keep away from the Postmaster General, and are apparently trying to induce ical claims. Senator Gordon, of Georgia, and Representative Lamar, of Mississippi, have returned from New Hampshire. Boston Herald, Independent Republican, says editorially: speeches made by Messrs. Gordon and Lamar in New Hampshire cannot fail to do good. The Southern question has been discussed too ex-clusively in the North by Northern men. We welcome to New England such representative Southern men as Messrs. Gordon and Lamar.

the President to listen to their polit-

"They speak the sentiments of the intelligent white citizens of the South; their evidence should quiet the apprehensions of the North that if the Southern States are allowed to govern themselves they will, in some way deprive, the colored people of their political rights, if they do not remand them back into slavery.

"These gentlemen tell the people of New Hampshire that the turbulance of the South comes entirely from a corrupt Government, and that the olitical rights of the negro can never be taken away from him, and that he talk of a new rebellion is absurd. Northern men have been going through New Hampshire preaching the danger of another rebellion and the reversion of the results of the war in relation to the negro. Those who listened to Messrs. Gordon and Lamar cannot fail to be satisfied that what they want is local self-government. It should not be a party question. How long can we keep States wrong side up by Federal bayonets? We wish that Messrs. Gordon and Lamar could extend their travels and speeches in New England, and without any party trammels whatever. They could do much to convince our people that the time had come to secure local government to the South, and that we are preparing a chalice that will surely sooner or later be pressed to our own lips.

The question is vital to us as well as to the South. We cannot sustain free institutions in one section while trampling them down in another. We must maintain liberty for all submit to a despotism which will deny the rights alike to all."

The Senate after a long discussion over Clayton's resolution for a special committee to inquire into the affairs of the Indian territories, without taking any action went into executive session and adjourned. Attorney General Williams decides that duties accrue on the 8th o February, the day on which the tariff bill was signed.

AN IMPORTED NATURAL GUANO.

A GENUINE ANIMAL DEPOSIT.

MONOPOLY OF THIS VALUABLE DEPOSIT HAS BEEN CREATED IN FAVOR of this Company by the Crown Officers. The name "GUANAHANI," is a Registered TRADE MARK at the United States Patent Office.

and all persons are warned from making use of the same

THIS COMPANY GUARANTEES THAT

Every Cargo will be ANALYZED Before it is Offered For Sale.

IMPORTED ONLY BY THE

GUANAHANI GUANO COMPANY,

PETERSBURG, VA.

In offering this FERTILIZER to the Agricultural Community a Second Season we do so with the utmost confidence, feeling satisfied that the high opinion, we formed, and expressed last season based on its Chemical Constituents, have been most satisfactorily borne out by the test, by which all Fertilizers must be judged, that of the Piantation. Last season, owing to the lateness at which we commenced importing, we were forced to put our Guano on the market at once, but now having continued our importations during the summer and fail, and having large and well ventilated Warehouses in the city of Petersburg and at City Point, we are enabled to put our Guano on the market, in a condition as to dryness and freedom from lumps, equal to any Manufactured Fertilizer.

We solicit a careful perusal of our Circular containing the certificates sent us, and which can be had on application at this OFFICE, or from any of our AGENTS. Having nothing to conceal, we made no innovation on established usage, by publishing those letters received unfavorable to our Guano, but careful inquiry in many cases proves that the cause of its failure was not owing to any fault in the Guano, but to those far beyond our control. We have frequently heard the same complaints of its kindred Fertilezer, Peruvion Guano, but the concurrent testimony of well known Farmers and Planters from Maryland to the extreme Western counties of North Carolina, justify us in claiming place for our Fertilizer Superior to many, and SEC:ND to NONE.

We confidently expect the continued patronage of the Agricultural Community and no exertion will be spared on our part to make
